

We Fly on the Picture. Compromise.

V, 8. The smallest thing by the influence of eternity, is made infinite & eternal. (We pass through a standing continent or region of ages, that are already before us, glorious & perfect while we come to them. Like men in a ship we pass forward, the shores & marks seeming to go backward, though we move & they stand still.) We are not with them in our progessive motion, but present the swiftness of our course, & are present with them in our understandings. Like the sun we dart our rays before us, & occupy those spaces with light & contemplation which we move towards,

but possess not with our bodies.

All is Here: whole in Centre

II 82

For being wholly everywhere, His omnipresence was wholly in every centre: & He could do no more than that would bear: Commemorate Himself wholly in every centre.

The Centre as the Soul

IV 80, 81 ... here the dimensions of innumerable worlds are shut up in a centre. where it should lodge such innumerable objects... I it is impossible to declare. But above all how, having no material or bodily existence, its substance, though invisible, should be so rich & precious.

IV 84 For as a looking-glass II a Q (mirror) is nothing in comparison of the world; yet containeth all the world in it, & seems a real fountain of those beams which flow from it, so the Soul is nothing in respect of God, yet all Eternity is contained in it, & it is the real fountain of that Love that proceedeth from it. They are the sunbeams which the glass retaineth: yet they flow from the glass & from the Sun within it. The mirror is the well-spring of them, because they shine from the Sun within the mirror, which is as deep within the glass as it is high within the Heavens.

29 We adopt the ideas presented to us. These judgments, being products of suggestion & not reasoning, have the quality of perfect obviousness. When we feel it is ^{wicked} ^{or opinion} absurd, ^{or} bad form, to enquire into a thing that thing ^{is} non-rational & probably founded on inadequate evidence.

The real reasons for our beliefs are hidden from us.
We find 'good' reasons afterwards, the real reasons are unknown. We rationalise.

W. J. Turner: "The Curious Days of the Sun"
Oxford Book of Modern Verse

I had watched the ascension & decline of the Moon
And did not realize that it moved only in my own mind.

Or that its distance of 240,000 miles }
Could also be . 240,000 of an inch. }

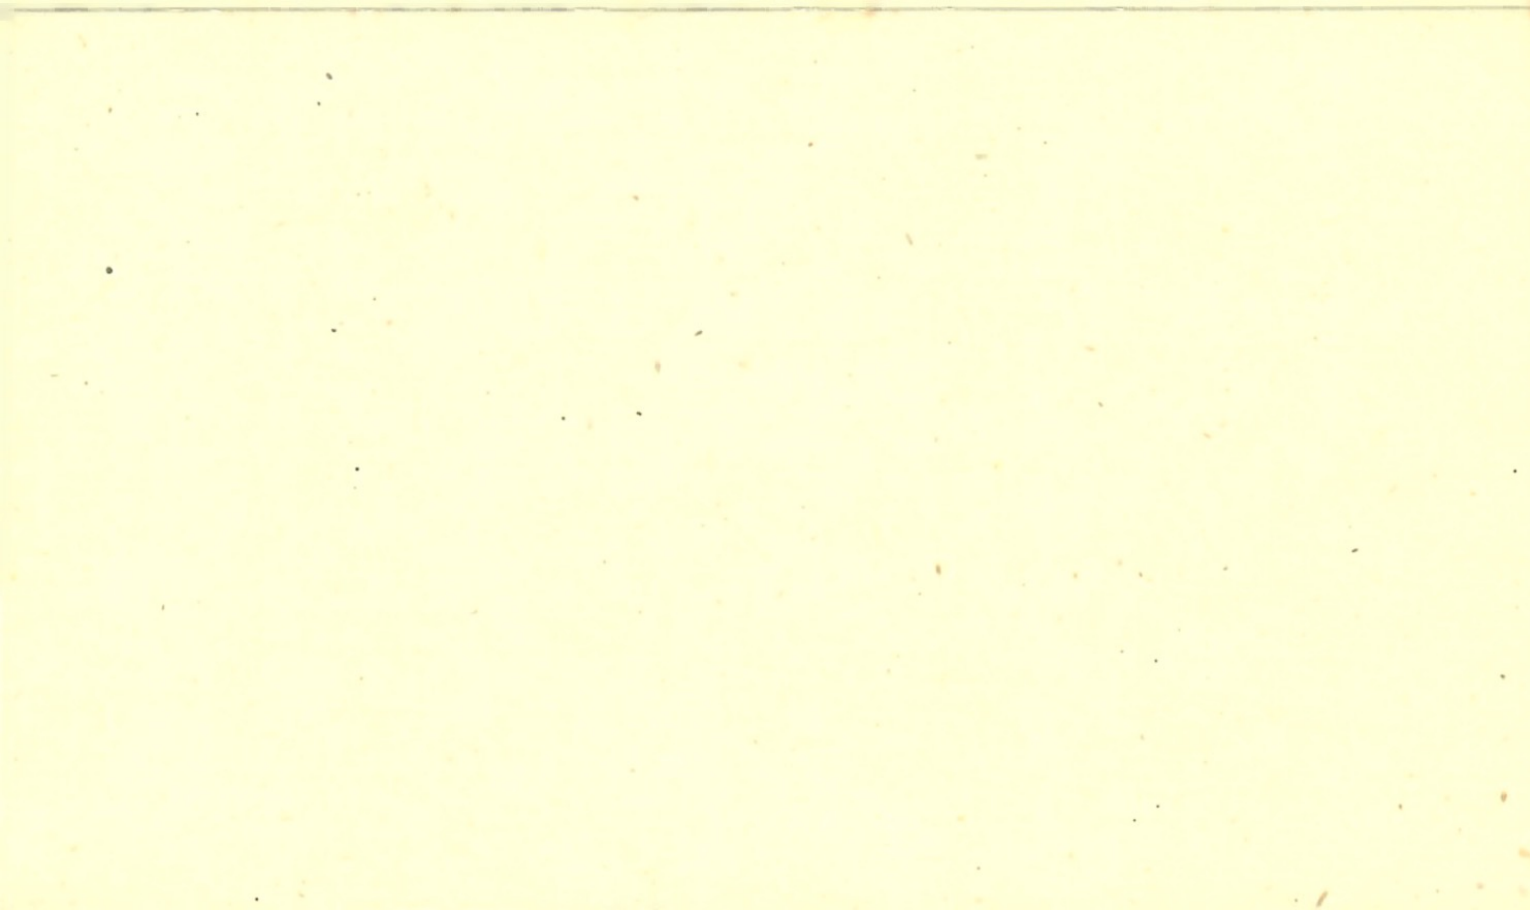

But now I know that the solar system & the constellations of stars
Are contained within me
Nothing exists outside me.....

W. J. Turner is right in a way: but he is facing the wrong way.

Lump the whole thing! say that the Creator made Italy from designs by Michael Angelo.

(Guss He did - the best bits!
