Living Iron

Living Iron's handcrafted pieces prove how a unique feature can add true character to your home

Like jewellery for your home, Living Iron's range of ornamental and architectural wrought-iron design elements create ambience and personality.

Founded in 1998 by Craig Parton, a blacksmith who has worked in the industry since 1985, Living Iron offers a depth of experience and passion that is second to none.

Living Iron's products are as extensive as they are impressive, covering everything from water features, sculptures, balustrading and fence panels through to gates, outdoor lighting and furniture.

Furthermore, the team has the ability to create designs and custom-fabricate to the client's requirements and expectations.

Specialising in handcrafted work, all decorative components are hand-forged, all welds are ground and, wherever possible, TIG welding is used to ensure a neat, quality finish.

While Living Iron's stunning internal and external ornamental sculptures and fittings can be seen at a number of residences throughout Perth, many street-art pieces and commercial projects are also widely recognised. The team has completed works at Kings Park, the Northbridge Plaza redevelopment, Perth Zoo and Whiteman Park, as well as at numerous schools and train stations.

It is with this proven track record that you can entrust your unique design to Living Iron.
